

THE 19th DAY OF THE MONTH OF MARCH
COMMEMORATION OF THE HOLY MARTYRS CHRYSANTHUS & DARIA
AT VESPERS

At "Lord, I have cried ...", these Stichera, in Tone IV:

Spec. Mel.: "Thou hast given a sign ...":

Having received the effulgence * of the knowledge of God, * thou didst illumine thy heart, O most wise father, * expelling the gloom of the mind's deception, * and didst confess Christ, * the Lord of all Who assumed our flesh. * Hence, O all-praised Chrysanthus, * made strong by the power of the Spirit, ** thou wast shown to be stronger than thy tortures.

Thou didst reckon the deceits of the enemy * and the burning of pleasures to be like a spider's web. * And standing in thy gloomy dungeon * thou wast illumined with divine effulgence * and wast filled with noetic fragrance * while surrounded by the fetid stench; * and as a most excellent escort * thou didst bring to Christ as an undefiled bride ** the woman who sought to defile thee.

Wounded by the most sweet love of the Creator, * thou didst utterly spurn all ungodliness; * and having betrothed thyself to Christ * by the many torments of thy body, * thou didst find within thyself a divine bridal chamber, * Daria of great renown, * thou divine receptacle of the Spirit, * adornment of athletes ** and ornament of virgins.

Glory ..., Now & ever ..., Theotokion in Tone IV:

O all-immaculate Virgin Mother, * transform the infirmity and impotence of my soul * into might and power, * that with fear and love * I may keep and observe the statutes of Christ, * that I may avoid the unbearable fire, * and, ever rejoicing, * may inherit through thee ** the kingdom of heaven and life unsurpassed.

Stavrotheotokion: The most pure one, * beholding Christ, the lover of mankind, crucified, * His side pierced by a lance, * cried out, lamenting: * "What is this, O my Son? * How have these thankless people rewarded Thee * for the good things Thou hast done for them? * Dost Thou hasten to leave me childless, O most Beloved? ** I marvel, O Compassionate One, at Thy voluntary crucifixion!"

AT MATINS

Canon, the acrostic whereof is:

"I honor thee, the golden flower of the martyrs",
the composition of Joseph, in Tone IV:

ODE I

Irmos: Through the deep of the Red Sea, * marched dry shod Israel of old, * and by Moses' outstretched hands, * raised in the form of a cross, * the power of Amalek was routed in the wilderness.

Adorned with a crown brighter than any gold, O martyr, and shining with the beauties of martyrdom, thou standest before the Master, praying for us who honor thee, O right wondrous one.

Thou wast wounded with sweet desire for thy Creator, O martyr Chrysanthus, and disdaining the beautiful things of the world, thou didst give all the power of thy heart to Him Whom thou didst earnestly desire.

Armed with faith, thou didst cast down the crafty one who tried to lead thee into deception through the pleasures of a woman; and didst remain a precious vessel of purity, O Chrysanthus.

Theotokion: He Who is unapproachable in His divine essence showed Himself to be approachable, taking flesh from thee, O Virgin. And desiring Him, Daria suffered patiently, and hath been brought to Him as a bride.

ODE III

Irmos: Thy Church, O Christ, rejoiceth in Thee crying aloud: * Thou, O Lord, art my strength, * my refuge and foundation.

Thou wast gold tried by the fire of the emperor's tortures, O Chrysanthus, bearing the image of the sufferings of Christ.

Abandoning the fables of the rhetors, thou didst fish with the nets of the disciples of Him who manifestly madeth thee wise, O Chrysanthus.

Thou didst submit to thy spouse, who escorted thee to Christ as a bride, O all-wise Daria, forsaking a fleshly lover for the sake of the precious Faith.

Theotokion: Jesus, Who was born of thy womb in the flesh, O Virgin, hath betrothed to Himself Daria, the pure martyr, as a bride.

Sedalion, in Tone III: Spec. Mel.: "Awed by the beauty of thy virginity ...":

Thou didst desire most comely beauty and didst pass beyond visible beauty; and by thy truly golden words, O blessed Chrysanthus, thou didst lead to Christ the glorious Daria, who endured sufferings and put the torturer to shame. With her, be thou mindful of all of us who keep your memory with faith.

Glory ..., Now & ever ..., Theotokion, in Tone III:

Byond understanding and unapproachable is the dread mystery of God wrought in thee, O divinely joyous Sovereign Lady; for having conceived the Infinite One, thou didst give birth to Him, clad in the flesh taken from thy most pure blood. Him do thou ever entreat as thy Son, O pure one, that our souls be saved.

Stavrotheotokion: Thou didst willingly endure a violent death in crucifixion, O Compassionate One. And she who gaveth birth to Thee was wounded, beholding Thee. By her supplications, take pity and save the world, O supremely good Lord and only Lover of mankind, Who takest away the sins of the world.

ODE IV

Irmos: Beholding Thee, the Sun of righteousness, * lifted up upon the Cross, * standing in its place, * the Church, worthily crieth out aloud: * Glory to Thy power, O Lord!

The luminous rays of the Spirit and thy pure heart made thee wholly radiant, O martyr, who earnestly cried aloud: Glory to Thy power, O Lord!

The Creator arrayed thee in a garment of incorruption woven of divine grace from on high, O blessed one, and He kept thy body undefiled, and crowned thee as victor.

With courage of heart thou didst shake off carnal pleasures, delighting in the incomparable beauty of God; and didst complete the contest of thy martyrdom.

Thou wast deified by partaking of a divinely wrought unity, O passion-bearer Daria, and, rejoicing, thou hast made thine abode in the mansions of heaven, as an undefiled bride of the Master of creation.

Theotokion: The Inconceivable One Who was incarnate of thee, O most pure one, preserved thee a virgin even after birth giving, as thou wast before giving birth; and He led the martyr Daria to Himself.

ODE V

Irmos: Thou, O Lord, who camest into the world, * art my light, * a holy light turning from the darkness of ignorance * those who sing Thy praises in faith.

Bound, thou didst destroy the malice of the enemy, O blessed one, holding thy mind above material things.

As a most sacred lover of purity, O all-praised one, thou didst transform the ardent love of the maiden into love for the Lord.

Beholding the tyrant cast down and trampled underfoot, O most blessed one, thou didst magnify the Master with joyous thought.

Theotokion: Who can describe thy mystery, O all-pure one? For, in a manner past understanding and all telling, thou hast given birth to God the Word in two essences.

ODE VI

Irmos: The church crieth out unto Thee O Lord, * 'I will sacrifice unto Thee with a voice of praise' * having been cleansed of the blood of the demons' * by the blood that for mercy's sake flowed from Thy side.

Light from heaven, that surrounded thee, wholly illumined thee as thou didst hymn the Master of all when imprisoned in the darkest prison-cell, O ever-memorable Chrysanthus.

Having acquired thee, the glorious one, as a golden star by thine honored martyrdom, Rome hath been adorned with thy struggles and divine miracles, O martyr Chrysanthus.

Having shown thyself to the most comely Word as beautiful, all-comely and most glorious, O martyr Daria, thou didst wed thyself to Him by all manner of bodily sufferings.

Theotokion: The Virgin gaveth birth unto Thee, the timeless Word, as a little Babe; and the maidens who follow after her, desiring Thee, have been brought to Thee, the King of all, as brides.

ODE VII

Irmos: In the Persian furnace the youths and descendants of Abraham, * burning with a love of piety * rather than by the flame of a fire, * cried out aloud saying: * Blessed art Thou in the temple of Thy glory, O Lord.

Thou wast the golden flower of the martyrs, and the assembly of athletes hath brought thee to Christ by thy divine words and miracles, O God-pleasing martyr. With them do we now faithfully call thee blessed.

With radiant glory Jesus illumined thee with divine fragrance, when thou hadst been imprisoned, naked, in a vile cell, O blessed one; Him didst thou all-wisely love with pure thought.

Christ sent to thee a wild beast to be the protector of thy virginity; and it manifestly warded off the destruction of the impious when thou didst chant, O all-praised Daria: Blessed art Thou in the temple of Thy glory, O Lord!

Theotokion: He who, in His divine essence, is uncircumscribable became circumscribed in the flesh, like us, within thy womb, O Virgin. Blessed art thou among women, O most immaculate Lady.

ODE VIII

Irmos: Having spread his hands, Daniel closed the lions jaws * in their den; * while the zealously pious youths, * girded with virtue, * quenched the power of the fire and cried aloud: * Bless ye the Lord, all ye works of the Lord.

Opposing the vain-minded one with steadfast thought, O blessed one, thou didst endure the laceration of thy body; and though burned with torches, remained unconsumed, O Chrysanthus, chanting with the three youths: Bless the Lord, all ye works of the Lord!

Adorned with the wisdom of Christ, thou didst expose the insolence of the mindless as foolish. And thou didst put to shame the mind of the deceiver who led Eve astray, O wise one, ensnaring his instrument by thy piety; leading her to God as a bride chosen for her faith.

With oneness of soul ye avoided carnal intercourse and revealed yourselves to be pure vessels of the Almighty; and borne now into the temple of heaven, O spiritual athletes, ye chant unto Christ: Bless the Lord, all ye works of the Lord!

Having mastered the carnal passions by the will of God, Chrysanthus and Daria reduced the fire of torments to ashes by the dew of the Spirit, and having received crowns of life, chant aloud: Bless the Lord, all ye works of the Lord!

Theotokion: God found thee, the undefiled one, like a rose amid the thorns of life, O most pure one; and He made His abode within thy pure womb, filling the world with a mystical fragrance, crying: Bless the Lord, all ye works of the Lord!

ODE IX

Irmos: A cornerstone not cut by hand O Virgin, * was cut from thee the unhewn mountain: * even Christ, Who hath joined together the separated natures; * therefore rejoicing we magnify thee, * O Theotokos.

When thou didst utter divine discourse, the army of God appeared before thee, delivering thee from vile deception. Slain by the sword, the martyrs offered themselves as unblemished sacrifices unto Him who, for our sake, was slaughtered like a Lamb.

Ye were seen to be like lambs in the midst of wild beasts, O spiritual athletes, preaching the incarnation of God Who condescended to take our flesh upon Himself; and in a godly manner ye inherited a painless end through your sufferings.

Today the city of Rome doth splendidly summon every city and land to celebrate your divine sufferings and struggles, O holy ones, offering them forth as a complete and immaterial banquet.

Ye were bound to immeasurable glory, O martyrs Chrysanthus and Daria; and ye stand before the almighty Word as ones crowned, praying on behalf of us who ever call you blessed.

Theotokion: Every mind and heart that pondereth thine incomprehensible birthgiving doth tremble, O Maiden; for thou didst bear God the Word within thy womb, Who through thee delivereth those who honor thee from all necessity.
